

Chelsi Phillips
Photodesign

Contents

2	Past Photos
4	Color Study
6	Blends
7	Type
8	High Dynamic Range
10	Camera Raw
11	Cut Out
12	Flora
14	Bannack
18	Portraits
19	Enhancements
20	Contact Information

Past Photos

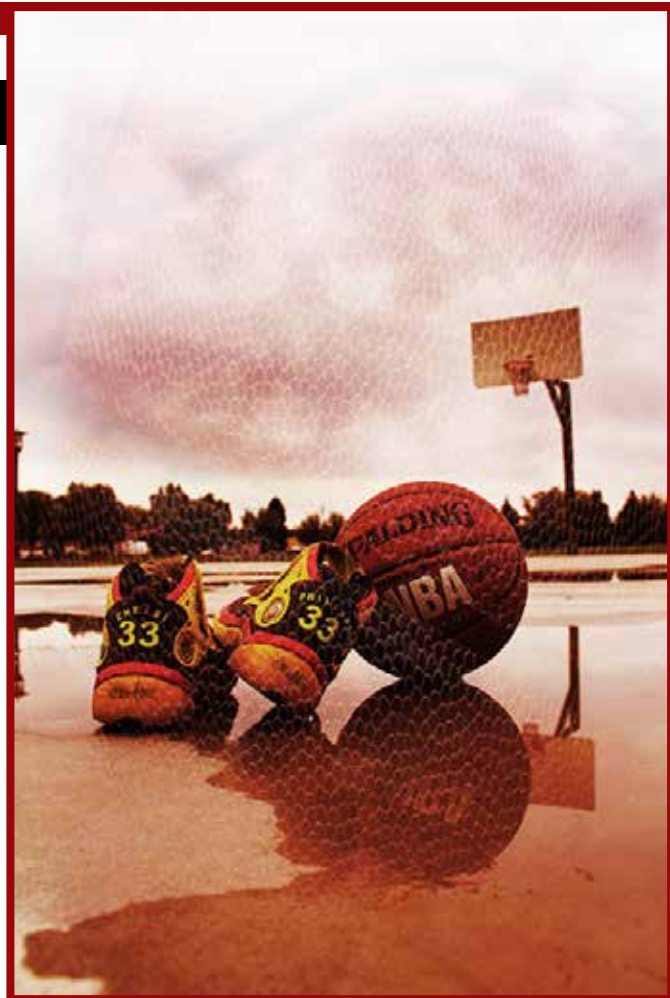

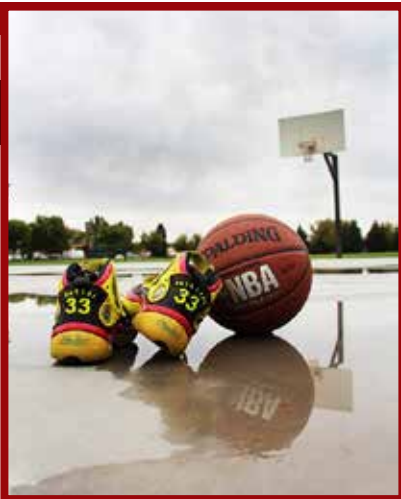

I was so glad I was able to take this class this semester. I learned so incredibly much. It blows my mind the types of edits Photoshop is capable of. It was a lot of fun learning new techniques, tips, and tricks. The highlights of my semester included learning how to shoot high dynamic range photos, how to edit in camera raw, and how to blend images. I hope to continue photography after this class and further my learning with Photoshop.

Color Study

Yellow

Blends

Type

High Dynamic Range

Camera Raw

Cut Out

Flora

13

14

15

16

13

14

15

16

I liked the flora assignment because I really enjoy being outside and observing nature, it makes me more appreciative of my surroundings. After this assignment, I am able to notice detail and what colors complement each other in nature.

Bannack

Visiting Bannack, Montana was such a neat experience. It was so exciting to win the best photo at the Cemetery. At Bannack, I became knowledgeable about lighting and camera settings. Also, the Bannack Shoot Out taught me a lot about portraits. I hope to go back in the near future and take some more awesome photos.

Montana

Portraits

One of my favorite things is candid shots, and little kids are the best models for this. I really enjoyed taking photos of my niece and nephews. I edited these photos in Photoshop by desaturating the images, then changing balance of colors to give it a sepia look. I also increased the contrast and brightness.

My sister was an amazing model and there was so many good photos to choose from. In these pictures, I used Photoshop to match the color from the top photo onto the first photo. I increased the contrast and burned the edges to make the photo look more dramatic.

Enhancements

Chelsi Phillips

208.431.7368

phillips_chelsi@hotmail.com

chelsiphillips.wordpress.com

Chelsi Phillips Photodesign

